Math

Spatial Relationships

Now that we have learned the vocabulary that helps describe attributes, we can move on to understanding spatial relationship such as direction and position. We will use this vocabulary and the corresponding conceptual awareness later when we classify and order materials.

Handwriting Without Tears

This month we will use the HWT big and little lines to form the following straight line letters: L, F, E, & H. We will also begin using the hooked on phonics program at our listening center to reinforce each letter of the week.

Practice name sheets will also be done weekly.
